CATALOGUE

OF THE

ALBANY INSTITUTE LIBRARY.

Founded 1793.

PREPARED BY

GEORGE WOOD.

PREFACE.

The accompanying Catalogue describes the Collection of Books made during the lapse of more than a half century, and from many sources.

Originating with the Society for the Encouragement of Agriculture and the Arts, the forming Library gained new additions when the union with the Lyceum of Natural History was effected; but the principal enlargement has been made during the existence of the ALBANY INSTITUTE. It is in the main the result of Donations, and this will account for its miscellaneous character. The volumes of Pamphlets (exceeding five hundred in number) comprehend portions of various Collections made by eminent individuals, among whom may be specified Sir James Mackintosh, De Witt Clinton, and Stephen Van Rensselaer. Various members of the Institute—the late Col. J. B. Van Schaick, the late M. H. Webster, Richard Varick De Witt and John V. L. Pruyn, Esqs., of Albany, and Professor Henry of Washington City—purchased largely of Pamphlet Collections and presented them to the Institute.

NOTE.

The names of Donors to the Institute are enclosed in parentheses at the end of the entries in the Catalogue. The capital P. and figures annexed, indicate Pamphlets, and the numbers of their volumes. The reference to the Alphabetic portion of the Catalogue, in the Index, is denoted by figures. When the reference is otherwise, it is from one part of the Index to another, thus: ATLAS. See GEOGRAPHY. Various abbreviations, in the Catalogue, indicate that the Pamphlets or Works, came, by donation or purchase, from the Collections of Libraries of the late Governor De Witt Clinton, the late Sir James Mackintosh, T. Romeyn Beck, the late Jacob Porter, of Plainfield, Mass., Isaiah Townsend, Esq., the late and present Hon. Stephen Van Rensselaer, and Messrs. Charles R. & George Webster, and M. H. Webster, of Albany. (Inst. Coll.) This abbreviation indicates the Collection of Pamphlets made by the
